

Childhood and Society SIGN

Centre for Education Research and Scholarship (CERS),
Middlesex University

2022 lunchtime seminar series

- Arboreal Methodologies: the promise of getting lost (with feminist new materialism and Indigenous ontologies) for social studies (Professor Jayne Osgood (14/02/22))
- Environmental education, Sustainability and Reduction of inequalities in Primary Schools. Research using Arendt's critical judgment and Dolci's ecological maieutics (Dr Abele Longo & Emanuela Guarcello(28/02/22))
- The Special Role of the Baby Room Leader in Early Years Settings (Dr Mona Sakr (14/03/22))
- Developing Children's Agency within a Children's Rights Education Framework: Ten Propositions (Dr Lee Jerome) (28/03/22)
- The Untimely Art of Scribble(Prof Victoria de Rijke) (11.04.22)
- The role of trust in positioning Children with Migrant Backgrounds: Primary Teachers' Narratives (Dr Angela Scolan) (25/4/22)
- Multilingualism: decolonising research practice (Dr Leena Robertson (9/5/22))
- Cameras (Sid Mohandas) (23/5/22)
- The mattering of cork in early childhood and its potential to tell other stories about the child of the Anthropocene. (Prof Jayne Osgood & Nina Odegard) (6/6/22)

All seminars will take place Online For more information and to reserve a place at any of the seminars please visit: mdxcers.wordpress.com/portfolio/public-events